

Memories of Philippine Kitchens

By Amy Besa and Romy Dorotan, owners and chef of the Purple Yam Restaurant, Brooklyn, New York.

Published by Stewart, Tabori & Chang, May 2012

A must-have book, and cookbook, for people who care about Filipino cuisine and its underlying culture. Amy and Romy spent years tracing the traditions of the food of the Philippines which has been passed down through the generations in Filipino home kitchens.

Amy Besa and Romy Dorotan were the first commercial supporters of heirloom rice from the Philippines, when they started buying the rice for their restaurant, Cendrillon, in 2007. The 2012 revised edition includes a mention of Eighth Wonder, the project and several recipes using the heirloom rice.

The wonderful cookbook is available for purchase at:
